What's saved as Web & App Activity

Info about your searches and other activity

When Web & App Activity is on, Google saves information like:

- Searches and activities on Google products and services, like Maps and Play.
- Info associated with your activity, like your language, referrer, whether you use a browser or an app, or the type of device you use.

- Activity may also include info about your location from your device's general area and IP address. Learn about locations.
- Ads you click, or things you buy on an advertiser's site.
- Info on your device, like recent searches for apps or contact names.
- Assistant interactions, including if Google Assistant detects an activation you didn't intend.

Note: Activity could be saved even when you're offline.

Info about your browsing and other activity on sites, apps, and devices that use Google services

When Web & App Activity is on, you can include additional activity like:

- Sites and apps that partner with Google to show ads
- Sites and apps that use Google services, including data that apps share with Google
- Your Chrome browsing history
- Android usage & diagnostics, like battery level and system errors

To let Google save this information:

- Web & App Activity must be on.
- The box next to "Include Chrome history and activity from sites, apps, and devices that use Google services" must be checked.

Your Chrome history is saved only if you're signed in to your Google Account and have Chrome Sync turned on. Learn about Chrome Sync.

Note: If you use a shared device or sign in with more than one account, activity might be saved to the default account on the browser or device you use.

Audio recordings

When Web & App Activity is on, you can include audio recordings from your interactions with Google Search, Assistant, and Maps as part of your activity. Learn about audio recordings.

To let Google save this information:

- Web & App Activity must be on.
- The box next to "Include audio recordings" must be checked.
